“ Kamanchi has given us the confidence and capability to move forward at pace ”

CLIENT VERDICT

Chief executive John Hunter is clear on what Kamanchi has delivered for his business:

“ It's an IT partnership that's been integral to our expansion, not just in terms of the 'keeping the lights on' but all the strategic advice and proactive consulting that has accompanied it.

That's given us both the confidence and the capability to move forward at pace, and a strong regard for the very personal, accountable and open relationships we enjoy at all levels of the Kamanchi organisation. ”
