AGENTPAY

REMOVING THE COMPLIANCE HEADACHE OF PROCESSING PAYMENTS FROM ANY LOCATION

If your business model requires you to handle payment card data, you will be required to meet each of the 350+ security controls in PCI DSS, the global standard for securing merchant payment processes. This is a mandatory security requirement designed to help keep both you and your customers safe from data breaches.

However, in today's modern world which sees your team working from various locations and devices, complying with PCI DSS can be a huge undertaking. Nasstar helps to simplify the compliance challenge by de-risking the agent environment from exposure to any cardholder data, no matter what the location.

THE NASSTAR WAY

We've created AgentPay, a payment application that securely captures and processes compliant payments from any location. Traditional methods of processing payments required the customer to disclose their card detail over the telephone, however, this sensitive information can be intercepted, recorded or written down, therefore creating a potential risk to you and your customers

AgentPay allows customers to process payments via a telephone keypad, speech recognition or a single-use payment link. The agent can oversee and track the progress of the payment, without ever being exposed to the confidential card data

Our solution is delivered via the cloud so there is no need to install any hardware on-site or worry about ongoing maintenance costs. AgentPay is deployed, monitored, and maintained remotely by Nasstar in-house experts.
